"This resource was so great when I had a group of girls who could just not get along. I started a friendship group and used this resource. They were able to learn valuable lessons about friendship. -Mallory

This group is great for educators who are...

- Teaching students about making new friends, maintaining friendships and conflict resolution
- Low on time, but still want high quality materials for their students
- Looking for small group activities that are effective AND engaging
- Working with elementary students in grades 3-5

“Currently using with a fourth grade group and I so appreciate the no-prep aspect! Thanks for the activities, kids are enjoying them so far!” -Kimberley
