

Use these activities to encourage your students to be helpers during the new year!

Perfect for:

- New Year's SEL lessons
- New Year's School Counseling lessons
- Creating a stronger classroom community
- Kindness lessons

Poster/Visual Aid

Display this poster in your classroom or office to remind students of ways that they can help others.

This can also be used as a visual aid while your students complete the activities in this resource.

Resolution Tracking Booklet

Use the resolution tracking booklet to help students set and accomplish a resolution of helping someone each day of the year.

Students can color in each day that they help someone. They can then answer the questions on the page to reflect on what they have done.

Bulletin Board Display

This template for a bulletin board or classroom display helps students reflect on how they have helped others, and how they can help others in the future.

Includes a title piece (the squirrel) and two acorn prompts.
