

Use these activities to help your students learn to embrace mistakes!

These activities are perfect for:

- Growth mindset lessons or small groups
- Perseverance lessons or small groups
- Students who get frustrated easily when they make mistakes
- Students who give up easily when they make mistakes
- Students who struggle with perfectionism

These activities can be used with or without the book Beautiful Oops! By Barney Saltzberg

Growth Mindset Booklet

This 6 page booklet will give students an opportunity to consider how mistakes can be made beautiful!

Students will give advice to 3 people who have made mistakes, reflect on their own mistakes, and have a chance to turn an oops into something beautiful!

Growth Mindset Sort

Students will look at 24 scenario cards and decide if the “oops” was turned into something beautiful, or if they need to change their mindset.

Coloring Worksheet

Students will write or draw about why a mistake can be beautiful.

These worksheets make great bulletin board displays!
